Acknowledgement

Firstly, I like to thank almighty Allah for giving me the courage, confidence and patience to do my research

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Salman Ali Khan, Dr. Atique and my brother Muhammad Imran Anjum for their continuous support throughout my research and guiding me with his immense knowledge in the field of marketing and motivating me and showing patience throughout my study. Without their support it's difficult for me to carry out my whole research.

I also want to thank my friend Rida Sadique for helping me out in my research and special thanks to Zahra Iqbal for helping me throughout the whole study. Without their continuous support hard to complete the thesis on time.

Last but not the least, I am thankful to the Bahria University Islamabad for providing us the excellent faculty who supported the students during their research and guided them whenever they are needed.
