Acknowledgement

It is important to state that we would like to present our heartfelt thanks to our supervisor, Ma'am Ghosia Awan, and whose assistance, knowledge, and constant help contributed significantly to the successful achievement of this project. Her many essential thoughts and support made us stronger in our knowledge and route during the research. We also wish to warmly thank OGDCL too as it has been able to avail the needed data and organizational information that facilitated this study. We would express our special appreciations to Sir Hafeez ur Rehman, Retired Internal Audit Officer in OGDCL, who greatly assisted us during the project with his consistent assistance, professional contribution, and collaboration. We are highly indebted to all the people who helped in this work both directly and indirectly.
